GOVERNMENT LOSES COAL TRUST FIGHT

Wins on One Small Point, But Loses on Other Important Ones.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 9.—The United States circuit court for the eastern district of Pennsylvania decided that there is no general conspiracy among the anthracite coal carrying roads or coal companies to restrain commerce, to monopolize the trade or to maintain certain prices, but it did decide that the Temple Iron company is a combination of anthracite coal carrying railroads in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The court granted the prayer of the government for an injunction restraining that corporation from continuing violations of the act. The sum and substance is that the government wins only one of several points, that in the Temple Iron company case, and that the defendants will not be compelled to change the present prices of coal.

FAMOUS IN A DAY FOR THE BEAUTY OF HER HANDS AND ARMS

A Free Prescription That Does Its Work Over Night—You Can Prepare It at Your Own Home.

"It's my own discovery, and it takes just one night to get such marvelous results," answers Miss Grace Benson, when her friends ask her about the marvelous change in appearance of her hands and arms. "You can do the same thing if you will take my advice," she says. "I feel it my duty to tell every woman what this wonderful prescription did for me. Just think of it, it did all this in a night! It affords me a world of pleasure to tell anyone else just how such remarkable results were brought about. I give you, absolutely free, the identical prescription which has removed every defect from my hands and arms. You can form no idea of the marvelous change it will make in just one application. The prescription, which can be prepared at your own home, is as follows: Go to any drug store and buy an empty two ounce bottle and also a one-ounce bottle of Kulus Compound. Pour the entire bottle of Kulus into the two-ounce bottle, add quarter ounce of witch hazel and fill with water. Mix this at home, then you know that it is the genuine article. Apply night and morning. The first application will astonish you. It makes the skin transparent, removes all discolorations such as tan, sun spots, freckles and coarse pores, roughness and wrinkles, and in fact every blemish the hands and arms are heir to. It also produces a marvelous effect on the neck and shoulders. If the neck is discolored from being exposed to the sun or from wearing high collars, this prescription will immediately relieve that condition. No matter how rough and ungainly the hands and arms, or what abuses they have had through hard work and exposure to sun and wind, this prescription will work a wonderful transformation in 12 hours at the most. Thousands of women are using this prescription with just the same results that I have had."

STABBED AS A STRIKE BREAKER

Man Who Was Going Hunting Enticed Into a Fight by Pickets.

New York, Dec. 9.—"There's a skunk in the restaurant over here with a gun; come and get him," called a voice from the crowd.

The "skunk" was John C. Warner, a young engineer of Highwood, Conn., and somebody did "get him" for in the riots during the expressmen's strike, he was stabbed in the back one night and died of his wounds three days later. That night the police arrested Alfred Mule, 20 years old, on suspicion of being the murderer.

The testimony accusing him comes from James F. Mulligan, one of four prisoners arrested by the police charged with being accessories to the crime.

Mule denies having anything to do with Warner's death and accuses Mulligan of "framing up" the whole yarn.

Mulligan's story, as the police give it, is that he and three others were at the strikers' meeting on the night of October 21, when the message about the "skunk" came by telephone from a picket.

An "entertainment committee" was sent out, he says, which found Warner, mistook him for a strike breaker—he carried a shotgun that he had planned to take on a shooting trip the next day—picked a quarrel with him, and left him dying.

Mulligan's story, the police say, is that Mule was one of the "company men" and that on his way back to the hall he boasted, while washing a bloody knife, "I got him twice." Warner had four stab wounds in the back.

MRS. CLARBY PLANS TO ERECT BUSINESS HOUSES

Mrs. A. D. Clarby will erect a three story office building on Broadway between San Antonio and Overland streets as soon as the five and ten year leases which are being considered by St. Joseph, Mo., and Chicago, Ill., firms are signed up. Mrs. Clarby said Friday morning that she could not state how soon work would start.

"The plans were prepared some time ago," she said, "and we are just waiting for the leases to be closed. The foundations will be large and substantial enough for a five story building, but probably at the start only two or three stories will be finished."

JUDGE CAMPBELL TO HEAR MILLION DOLLAR MINE SUIT

Tombstone, Ariz., Dec. 9.—Judge John Campbell of Tucson will come here next week to preside in the million dollar mining suit of John Gleason vs. Martin Costello, and Judge Doan will go to Tucson to preside in the district court.

When you have a cold get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will soon fix you up all right and will ward off any tendency toward pneumonia. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. Sold by all dealers.

AMUSEMENTS

VAUDEVILLE AT MAJESTIC.

The opening bill of the Majestic's venture in vaudeville was considerably better than the average popular priced vaudeville. With four acts and moving pictures, it lasted for over an hour and proved a real entertainment. Rogers and Marvin, in a comic skit and songs opened the bill, and Claude Kory and Madeline Rowe convulsed the audience with their travesties and singing, while "Trump, the marvel of the wire, proved in reality a marvel, as he is a man without feet, yet 'walks' and swings on a wire and performs a number of other seemingly impossible feats. The bill closes with Claus and Radcliffe, who do some very eccentric dancing while they sing songs and crack jokes. The prices of ten and twenty-five cents will remain in force, manager Rich says.

AT THE HAPPY HOUR.

"The College Boy," the new bill at the Happy Hour by the Raymond Teal company, is full of ginger, songs and action. There are a number of delightful chorus numbers and the audience seemed to more than enjoy the production last evening, judging from the almost continuous applause and laughter. The play is in two acts with plenty of specialties, and the Teal chorus always dresses, dances and sings well. Manager Fogg has many who agree with him when he says the show is worth more than the money charged for it.

"THE MAN OF THE HOUR."

The company in "The Man of the Hour" this year is unusually strong, embracing such people of stage distinction as Harry English, John Moore, John Morris, Warren Conlan, Edward Keane, Clyde F. McCabe, Franklin George, Frank Kendrick, E. H. Felt, Geo. A. Cameron and Myrtle Cosgrove, Florence Mack and Virginia Irwin. The women have won particular commendation for effective gowns and fine appearance. The company appears at the El Paso theater Sunday and Monday, December 11 and 12, with a popular priced matinee Sunday. The prices at night for the lower floor will be $1.50 and $1.00; balcony, $1.00. The matinee prices on the lower floor are $1.00; balcony 75c and 50c. Seats are now selling.

THE CRAWFORD.

One of the largest midweek houses of the season witnessed the new production at the Crawford last night and pronounced it one of the best of the Crawford season. The same bill will run the rest of the week with matinee Saturday.

MANY EYES DEFECTIVE.

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 9.—Ten out of 50 pupils of the local schools were found to have defective eyesight, according to a report made by Dr. J. A. Rolls.

Thanks to our many friends who were kind to us last year and here we have had a very successful season. Mrs. E. J. Aguero, Miss Lizzie Abbott, Mrs. Nix and Family.
